The Cattle Scourge.

The Cattle Scourge.

Last Tuesday in company with commissioner McCarley, J. M. Smyth and C. E. Wareham, we went to Neosho Falls to attend the meeting of stock men called to consider what measures had better be taken for the eradication of the foot and mouth disease that has made its appearance among the cattle of Coffey and Woodson counties. We went there strongly under the impression that the cattle interests were more scared than hurt, and that an exsion that the cattle interests were more scared than hurt, and that an extra session of the legislature would be a useless and uncalled for waste of money and time. We came away fully convinced that the magnitude and far-reaching effect of the sourge had not been realized and that an extra session of the legislature is an imperative necessity, and would prove in the long run to be the most economical measure that could be taken.

The meeting was a very large and in the long run to be the most economical measure that could be taken.

The meeting was a very large and representative one. Fiteen counties were represented and there must have been at least 200 men present. The Governor was there accompanied by Treasurer Home, Major Sims, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture and by representatives of the Topeka Commonwealth and Capital, the Kansas City Journal and the Chicago Tribome. Representatives of the Emporia, Burlington and Leroy papers were also present. State Senators, Judge Thacher, Kelley and Fingh were there and in short the meeting was made up of the most able and influential men of the State. The meeting was called to order by Licutenant GovernorFinney, who briefly stated the origin and progress of the seourge. It origin and progress of the scourge. It broke out first about Christmas among some calves owned by Mr. Reith, five miles north of Neosho Falls. Shortly after that it made its appearance in the herds of Messrs. Beard and Goodrich, miles north of Neosho Falis. Shortly affer that it made its appearance in the herds of Messrs. Beard and Goodrich, in the same vicinity. On Monday of this week, when veterinary surgeons were sent for and pronounced it the foot and mouth disease. On Monday of this week, the surgeons visited the herd of Mr. Pribbenow, on Owl creek, about 12 miles south of Neosho Falis and found eight animals of his herd infected with the same disease. This is the extent of the disease in our immediate neighborhood. Some time after the meeting had been called to order the meeting had been called to order, representatives from Lyon county arrived who stated that the disease had also made its appearance in that county on the farm of a Mr. O'Toole. Mr. O'Toole had made a large sale of stock after the disease had broken out, but before its true nature was known, and there is every possibility therefore that the soourge may become wide spread. As gathered from the report of the surgeons the symptoms of the disease are as follows: The animal stands with back arched and head down. Shows feverish condition by hunting cool places to lie down. Becomes lame psually in the hind feet first. Ulcers appear about the hoof and the foot gradually sloughs off by mortification. Ulcers appear also in the mouth and the animal sometimes foams at

Resolved, That we urgently ask our senators in congress to press to a speedy passage the bill now pending in that body, know as the Hatch bill, on this matter of contagious disease among domestic animals.

on this master of coutagious disease among domestic animals.

After adopting the resolutions the meeting adjourned.

It is not yet known whether the Governor will call an extra session of the legislature, but from what we have presented above, it must be admitted that he would be justified in so doing. As it now stands, the scourge is confined to a very limited space and can probably be entirely eradicated by prompt action and the expenditure of $40,000, or $50,000, whereas if it was once allowed to get on the ranges it would be nearly an impossibility to stamp it out. The spread of the disease means the death of the live stock trade in Kansas, and that means the bankruptey of the state. At present there is no great cause for alarm, but the spread of the scourge must be stopped at all hazards and it is the judgment of some of the wisest and most conservative men of the state that an extra session of the legislature is the only thing that can meet the emergency.

COUNTY NOTES.

What is Being Done Throughout th County-Events and Gossip of the Week.

Neosho Valley Notes

The damp, unpleasest changes of the weather last week, was excessively detrimental to the health of our community. Although there are but few strictly confined to the bed, if one is interrogated respecting his health, it would be out of the common way of expressing it, for him to say anything else, than that he has a very bad cold. Mr McClelland, late of Ohio, after makin an ineffectual search for a house that he could reat, has decided to build a small dwelling en D. Click's farm, four miles south of lola, which he will occupy until he can better suit
